Camp New Harmony 2018–2019

Camp New Harmony is new again! We are enthusiastic to have secured Walker Creek Ranch for our New Year's camp from Thursday, December 27 to Tuesday, January 1. Attendees may come for all or part. We welcome newcomers, and if you will be a first-time attendee, please feel free to e-mail or phone with your questions.

THE VENUE: Walker Creek Ranch, in rural Marin County, is known to some in our community as a great retreat spot for other musical gatherings. Its level site nestled into surrounding hills features accessible buildings clustered for convenience.

Facilities include a central dining hall and other spacious halls suitable for dancing, concerts, and large group activities. There are numerous rooms for workshops, Arts & Crafts, and lots of smaller spaces for jamming. The property offers walking trails and a scenic bridge over the Creek. There's even a natural history museum for learning about local flora and fauna.

HOUSING: Walker Creek offers a range of housing options, and because Walker Creek charges different rates for these options, our fees are rated accordingly. This location is remote from any off-site lodging. The registration form provides space to explain any accessibility needs.

- Dormitories are furnished with bunk beds, and all have easy access to a large central bath house with separate facilities for men and for women. We hope to be able to provide a lower bunk to everyone who wants one.
- Semi-Private lodges have multiple rooms each accommodating 2–5 people. These buildings have a common lounge area, some with kitchenette, and shared internal bathrooms. The price for semi-private includes linens. There are no single rooms available at Walker Creek Ranch.
- Camping is permitted. A parking lot is designated for RVs (with no hook-ups) and tent camping is available at locations around the grounds. If you live locally and wish to stay off-site, the charge will be the same as camping.

Our registrars will make every effort to situate campers in housing suitable to their needs and preferences.

MEALS: Each camper day starts and ends at 2:00 PM, and includes dinner on the day you arrive, and breakfast and lunch the next day. All meals will be prepared by Walker Creek staff who will do their very best to accommodate individual dietary preferences. When you register you have the option of choosing gluten-free, dairy-free, omnivore, vegetarian, or vegan. If you have additional dietary needs, please contact our registrars.

ONLINE REGISTRATION: Registration will be available starting September 1. To register, go to www.sffmc.org

SFFMC July 4 Camp: New Dates:

Saturday, June 30–Monday, July 2: TWO NIGHTS

Festival of the Sea

Saturday, August 18, 9:30 AM–5:00 PM. On Hyde Street Pier. Free admission.

Celebrate our maritime heritage with music, on 3 stages. Shipboard demonstrations, kids crafts, and more! Produced by San Francisco Maritime National Historical Park. Website: www.nps.gov/safr/ or call the Visitor Center: 415-447-5000.

PERFORMERS, AS OF 6/12/18:

- Ron and Natalie Daise (South Carolina) • Dave Webber and Anni Fentiman (England) • Julie Henigan (Missouri)
- Bill Dempsey (San Diego) • Shay Black • American Center of Philippine Arts Rondalla and Percussion Ensemble • Felim Egan, Tim Hill and Richard Mandel
- Dogwatch Nautical Band • Adrianna Ciccone and Colin Cotter • Patrick Landeza • Amelia Hogan • Peter Kasin and Richard Adrianowicz • Erin Rose Conner • Erin Ruth Thompson • Brass Farthing • Lewis Santer
- Laurel North • Cathy Chilcott • Jim Nelson • Kate Brubeck • Steve Canright

the folknik: Is this the last issue?

Probably. At least in this form.

Why? Thad and Phyllis are resigning as folknik editors after the July/August folknik. An editor for the next issue is needed—either for a print version or an online version.

The bulk mail permit for mailing the print issues of the folknik expires Wednesday, June 27, 2018, and we have not renewed it.

Under the current schedule, a reminder needs to be sent to the Harmony list by July 20 or 27 about the August 3 deadline to send items to the page editors and the editor-in-chief, whomever that will be. See the story on page 4 of this folknik for the qualifications for the editor.

Labor Day weekend

We are still searching for a suitable camp. If you have one in mind, please check the availability and let us know.

We may have a picnic day instead if we can reserve a group site.

Check sffmc.org for updated information.

Fold-In Sunday, August 26

The fold-in and folk-sing is at 12:00 PM, August 26, at the home of Hali Hammer, 1609 Woolsey St., Berkeley, 510-649-1423.

Help with the folknik, enjoy a meal, and make music. Bring a potluck dish and instruments.

vThe San Francisco Folk Music Club is a nonprofit corporation dedicated to the enjoyment, preservation and promotion of acoustic music in individual, family, and community life.

“That’s one of the things I like best about folk music is the beautiful melodies — and the harmonies — that exist in it. And of course, some of the stories, the story songs.” — Roger McGuinn

Musical Meetings

Musical meetings of the San Francisco Folk Music Club are held every second and fourth Friday at Cyprian’s ARC, 2097 Turk Street (at Lyon), San Francisco. There is plenty of street parking, but if you can’t find anything closer, you may park in the blood bank lot at Turk and Masonic. Cyprian’s asks that if we park in the lot, we use a parking pass. Parking passes are stored on the info table right inside the front entrance of the church. You can pull up to the front entrance and step inside to get one before you park. You can keep it in your car for future use since they are not dated.

Singing and jamming start at 8:00 pm; we start clean-up at 11:30 and need to leave by midnight. Two of the rooms require earlier leaving times. Bring finger-food snacks and beverages if you can. Guests are always welcome, and no one is expected to “perform.” Cyprian’s charges us rent; we ask those who can to donate $5 to $10 per evening, but if you can’t donate, we still want you to join us!

In consideration of our members’ allergies and other concerns, only service animals are permitted at SFFMC events, and all our events are fragrance-free. The wearing of perfumes or heavily-scented products is not permitted. If a situation arises that cannot be easily remedied, members may be asked to show responsibility by taking their pet home or going home to change out of clothing that has picked up the offending scents.

Jerry Prayer (1939-2018)

by Deborah Sandler

We have lost one of our best. Singer-songwriter extraordinaire, town crier, and folk club stalwart Jerry Prayer died on April 30, 2018 of cancer, just shy of his 79th birthday and 58th wedding anniversary.

Because folk singing and songwriting came so naturally to Jerry, we assume he did that all his life, but he had a scientific past – including working at the NASA Jet Propulsion Laboratory, where he processed pictures from the Mars landing.

Jerry and Bev met when Jerry was 13 and Bev was 11. They married right after Jerry graduated from college, and moved west. They joined the Riverside Folk Song Society where they were influenced to become folksingers. Jerry and Bev started playing in schools in 1981, and went fulltime in 1987, having booked 50 schools in 5 months.

Jerry wrote 35 songs and 17 parodies with Bev. Their partnership was legendary, and their love for each other shone brightly in each song. Their voices blended together seamlessly. Their parody workshops made us laugh so hard our smile muscles hurt. Jerry’s first song was written in 1977 during a walk in Cleveland. The muse grabbed him and he ran into a drugstore for pencil and paper. The muse’s call could be abrupt, once causing him to suddenly pull off the highway to write, too busy with the song to tell Bev why he had stopped. They made three recordings: Old Songs for the Young at Heart, Are We There Yet? and Going Places, and published a songbook: Signs of the Times. Numerous videos of Jerry and Bev can be found on YouTube, including their song “Velcro”.

Redmond O’Colonies convinced Bev and Jerry to become town criers. They became San Luis Obispo County’s official Town Criers in 2000, and delighted Camp Harmony with their schtick. In 2015, Jerry took second place honors in a worldwide Town Crier competition in New Zealand.

Jerry is survived by his loving wife and partner Bev, and daughters Linda and Debbie. Bev requests that any memorial donations be made to the Camp Harmony Campership Fund.

Editor’s note: Bob Reid created a wonderful video in memoriam for Jerry, and it is posted on You Tube. The audio is “Sing With Me”, written by Jerry for Bev, after 50 years of singing together, and recorded by Vicki Solomon at Camp Harmony. A slide show of Bev & Jerry photos accompanies the song. Search for “Jerry Prayer” on YouTube.

Websites of Interest to Folkies

by Marlene McCall

50 Best Folk Music Artists of all Time. All “Best of” lists should, of course, be taken with a grain of salt. They are someone’s subjective opinion, in this case, Kim Ruehl of the Thought Company. Nevertheless, it’s a pretty interesting and diverse list when viewed as a reference, and you may be introduced to some artists you don’t know, or may be reminded of some whom you haven’t thought about recently. For an example of the breadth of folk singers, groups and bands covered, the top seven are (1) The Weavers, (2) Ani de Franco, (3) Ben Harper, (4) Bob Dylan, (5) The Carter Family, (6) Cat Stevens, and (7) Charlie Poole. I can hear the potential folkie disagreements already!

A Folk Song a Day by Jon Boden. For an entire year between 2010 and 2011, in a mammoth project, Jon Boden recorded a folk song every day. The aim of the project was to provide a resource for anyone interested in taking up social folk singing. You can browse an alphabetical list of all 365 songs, search for a particular song title, read Simon Holland’s notes and comments about each song, and listen to each recording.

www.afolksongaday.com.

Best Folk Albums of 2015, from the Telegraph (UK). Same caveat as mentioned above re “Best of” lists. Martin Chilton, culture editor of the Telegraph, rates 70 folk music albums issued in 2015, using a five-star review system, with his top choices at the top of the list. Each album is identified and described, and in many cases, links to full-fledge reviews are included.

Folk Works. It’s a little hard to categorize this website, which is self-described as “The Alternative Voice for Folk/Roots/Trad Music, Dance and Related Folk Arts in Southern California”. It offers a combination of articles, interviews, milestones, and contributions by seven different columnists, as well as a calendar of festivals and live music performances. The calendar will be mostly useful to those in Southern California, but most of the other offerings are of equal interest to all, regardless of location.

Music Theory for Musicians and Normal People. Although some of the topics covered are less relevant to folk musicians than to other more formal musical genres, certainly the music theory fundamentals are useful for anyone, older children or adults, who want to learn about or advance their knowledge of music theory. Each topic – for instance, Pitch, Rhythm, Meter, The Major Scale, Key Signatures – can be downloaded free in PDF form or, especially useful to music teachers, can be purchased in the form of an 18” x 24” poster.

Second Hand Songs. This is the best online resource I’ve found for determining writing credit on recorded songs (when writing credit is known) and to find out what artists/performers/groups have recorded a given song. Almost 75,000 “original” recordings (meaning the very first time a song was recorded) and almost 600,000 covers (all subsequent recording of any song). The recordings in the database increase over time; members of the public are encouraged to register with the website and submit information on additional recordings. If you choose to become a submitter, you will need to give links to the recording and back up your information. If the folks at Second Hand Songs review and agree with your submission, it will be added to the database underlying the website.

The Global Jukebox. Although Alan Lomax died in 2002, the organization he founded, the Association for Cultural Equity (ACE), is furthering his research with the Global Jukebox, an online database that allows users to listen to and learn about more than 6,000 songs from 1,000 cultures, including many from Lomax’s personal collection.

www.theglobaljukebox.org

The Great 78 Project. The Great 78 Project is a community project for the preservation, research, and discovery of 78 RPM records. From about 1898 to the 1950s, an estimated 3 million sides (~3 minute recordings) were made on 78 RPM discs. Although many of the commercially viable recordings have been restored or remastered onto LPs or CD, there is still research value in the artifacts and often rare 78 RPM discs and recordings. Many thousands of these songs are available for listening and download on the website here:

<http://great78.archive.org/>

The Traditional Ballad Index. Created by Robert B. Waltz and David G. Engle at California State University at Fresno, this is a huge resource for those who are interested in researching traditional ballads. From the initial alphabetic list of thousands of titles, you can click through to get information on any individual song, including cross-reference title information – we all know that traditional ballads are often known by several alternate titles – and other data, such as basic storyline, earliest date known, Child numbers and Roud numbers when applicable, locations collected, a bibliography that refers to the folklore literature in which the ballad is mentioned, and broadside and recording information.

The Music of Story, the Magic of Music, Part VI

by Robert Rodriguez

In the ballad entitled “May Colven”, a variant of number four in the Child collection, after the heroine has returned home, having dispatched the nefarious false Sir John to his watery grave, her parrot inquires where she has been, and what has become of her would-be wooer. She tells the parrot that if it will keep her secret, she will give to it a cage of the finest gold and ivory as a reward. When her father inquires why the bird is chattering so loudly, it answers that a nasty cat is prowling around its cage, and it is thanking its mistress for driving it away. So everyone lives happily ever after except, of course, the perfidious Sir John, including the cunning bird who realizes the fruits of its deception.

The world of ballad and story is replete with examples of cunning and crafty critters whose actions alter the lives and fortunes not only of human beings but of themselves as well. No story more exemplifies this than the tale often referred to as “Puss in Boots”, although in many versions the animal in question is not a cat nor is he known to wear any footgear. Its first appearance in Europe may have been as early as 1553 in a collection of stories by the writer Giovanni Francesco Straparola called, “Le Piacevoli Noti”, or “The Pleasant Night”. Fable one of the eleventh night tells how a cunning cat helped an impoverished youth named Constantine to win a king’s daughter to wife, and eventually to become king of Bohemia. Later versions of the story would appear in separate collections in Naples in 1634 and Paris in 1697. And by the 18th century, more versions were circulating throughout Italy, France, Germany and England. Before the 19th century would arrive, along with the story known as “Dick Whittington”, which also features a crafty feline who aids a poor young man into changing the circumstances of his life from rags to riches, the theme of the cunning animal who aids a human being to wealth and happiness takes center stage. Other versions of the story become localized so that in Finland, for example, the creature in question is a fox, often named Mikko, while in India the chief protagonist may be a jackal who aids a poor youth to eventually wed a Rajah’s daughter and become monarch himself when her father dies.

Other animals often show their cleverness in other ways, but the results are often similar as regards their own lives and fortunes. There is a tale, known from West Africa to Indonesia, in which a clever monkey outwits a greedy but rather foolish shark by telling the shark that it has left its heart back home, thus forcing the shark to return to its home territory and allowing the monkey to escape and keep its life. In its Indian variant, it is often included in The Panchatantra, the world’s oldest collection of animal fables told to instruct three sons of a king in the proper behavior of royals towards others of their class as well as in their relations to their own subjects. These types of political fables are quite popular from Persia and Turkey as far East as Tibet and Mongolia. They even feature a variety of creatures as clever and wise story tellers in a variety of settings to keep young women from straying off the path of virtue where their husbands are concerned. Perhaps the best example of this type of tale can be found in the 14th century Persian text known as The Book of the Parrot, in which a cunning and sagacious bird regales its mistress for 52 nights to keep her from betraying her merchant husband until his return home...

— to be continued in Part VII in a future folknik.

song, The mu-sic starts and fills the room and lasts the whole night long.

2. We sing of drink, we sing of peace, of shipwrecks here and there
The harmonies unfold with time and fill the nighttime air.

CHORUS

3. To working folk who labor on and build this road we ride
To poets who give us the strength to keep the cold outside.

CHORUS

4. To children and their playful thoughts, to those that guide them on
To lovers who reach out and touch the lives they carry on.

CHORUS

5. And when at last we have to part, we shed a tear farewell
With promises to sing again, and make the good times swell.

ABOUT THE SONGWRITER

When in high school in San Francisco, Jas. Adams often attended SFFMC Friday evenings at Faith Petric's house on Clayton Street, and the camaraderie and sharing of music has stayed with him ever since. He wrote this song after moving to Oregon, and he has recently dusted it off for the folknik. A dog lover, Jas. originally wrote this song for his shepherd mix, Lloyd.

PAYMENT: This year you will have the option to pay using a PayPal account, major credit card, or by check. If you choose to pay by check, the site and your confirmation e-mail will tell you where to mail your check. Checks must be postmarked by October 19 in order for you to receive the bargain rate.

Camperships

For those who would not otherwise be able to attend camp, the Club offers fee reductions known as "camperships." If you are able to donate to the Campership Fund, remember it is tax-deductible, and you will be helping someone get to camp who may be someone you will miss if they can't attend. The funds will be distributed on a first-come, first-served basis on the honor system. We encourage you to register early if asking for a campership. To apply, register for the days you wish, and enter an amount in the box labeled "requested campership". To help distribute the campership fund fairly, this amount can't exceed 50% of bargain registration rates, up to a maximum of $200. This encourages campers who need a campership to register early so we know how much we have left in campership funds. We will post a notice on the website when we run out of campership funds. We encourage you to request less than a 50% campership if you can. The campership amount will then be automatically subtracted from your total. TAX-DEDUCTIBLE DONATIONS to the Campership Fund are welcome and appreciated!

Activities

Harmony is a self-made music camp for our Club members of all ages and experience levels. Workshops include singing, dancing, tunes, instrument instruction/technique, and there is a great deal of spontaneous jamming that occurs day and night. All workshops and activities are camper-led, and any camper can sign up to teach or lead a workshop. In addition, every night we have a concert and a dance. If you would like to lead a workshop, you can sign up at camp, or go to Mudcat café and sign up online: <https://mudcat.org/thread.cfm?threadid=164231>. To see what workshops have been offered in previous years, search Mudcat café for "Camp New Harmony workshop signups."

Look for more information in the Nov/Dec folknik, and Friend us on Facebook!

News from Tom Clunie and Jessica Bryan in Oregon:

(Including notes about U. Utah Phillips)

Tom Clunie and I recently went to a wonderful event at The Black Butte Center for Railroad Culture ("BBCRC") in Weed, California for the "Grand Opening of the Utah Phillips Flanger Car."

Afterwards, we received the following e-mail from Mark Ross, an old friend of Utah's. So rather than write our own commentary, we are sending Mark's. Thanks, Mark! We enjoyed your concert very much.

Back in the 1970s, when Utah was recording for Philo Records in Vermont, the company gave him an acre of land so he would have a place to live. He bought an 1890 Canadian Pacific flanger car (used to scrape ice and snow off the tracks) for $500. He held a big party, got everyone drunk, and laid 50 feet of track. The car was brought to Monckton Ridge on two flatbed trucks, and there was a crane to hoist it off and place it on the tracks. The car was 48 feet long, and the track 50 feet. Utah called it "The Greater Monckton Ridge, Saratoga, Salt Lake & Pacific RR."

Utah said "It can move one foot in either direction. You have to start somewhere." He lived in it for a couple of years when he wasn't on the road playing. It was fixed up real nice with a dining table elevated in the cupola and a bed and a wood stove.

Utah moved to Spokane with Sheila Collins a couple of years later, had two children and settled down there. He and Sheila later divorced and Utah married Joanna Robinson and moved to Nevada City.

Last year someone alerted his eldest son Duncan that the car was for sale. Duncan managed to find the seller who now owned the Philo barn. When asked for the price, the owner replied, "I'm not going to sell you the car, I'm going to give it to you."

The BBCRC, which is owned by a bunch of former and current hoboes and railroaders, said they would take it. Duncan raised over $22,000 to haul the car across country. It was too old to be hauled behind a train, being wood-bodied without a steel frame. It was badly in need of repair, and Duncan is in the process of restoring it (and he's doing a magnificent job!).

About 100 people gathered for the ribbon-cutting and a concert by John McCutcheon, Utah's son Brendan, Bodie Wagner, Michael Taub and Gwendolyn Hallsmith, and Mark Ross. Utah's wife Joanna Robinson, his sister Deborah Cohen, brother Stuart Cohen, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren were in attendance, along with an assortment of hoboes, hoboettes, and fans and friends of Utah's. It was a grand time. Here's a link to the web site Duncan has set up in his father's memory. It includes some great photos: <<https://www.thelongmemory.com>>.

Anyone traveling north or south on I-5 should definitely stop in Weed and visit the BBCRC. They are having many events over the summer and fall months (closed in winter). People are welcome to camp there, and actually it would make a great space for a folk music gathering or campout. Get off at the first Weed exit if you are driving north. I think it's marked as a truck stop. Here's more info:

ALSO: They have two great CDs of rare songs related to railroads for sale.
